

THE ALASKA COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Starting as an idea with minimal initial resources in 1995, the founders of The Alaska Community Foundation imagined a place where Alaskans who have done well were able to “do good” for Alaska.

By providing you with a variety of giving options, we cultivate, celebrate, and sustain all forms of philanthropy. Guided by our statewide Board of Directors, we award grants to nonprofit organizations, provide scholarships, and convene leaders and organizations across Alaska to address emerging and long-term community needs.

Our primary focus is to create and grow endowments which are permanent pools of assets that generate income to support the causes our communities care about.

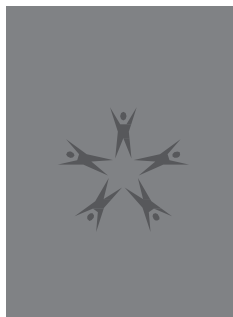

Today, the Alaska Community Foundation manages more than $75 million in assets. Many Alaskans have committed to future gifts through their wills and retirement accounts, leaving a legacy that will permanently support the causes they care about forever.

HOW DOES AN ENDOWMENT WORK?

An endowment is a “savings account” that grows through financial contributions from donors and strategic investing. The Alaska Community Foundation offers a well-balanced, diversified portfolio that focuses on long-term growth. The proceeds earned are used to support nonprofits or projects in the endowment’s area community needs and make effective grant recommendations.

Donors to endowments want to ensure the future prosperity of their community. Gifts to endowments don’t have to be large to make a significant impact.

Whatever the gift, donors make it with the intention of having it prudently invested and protected for the future. When ACF accepts an endowment gift, we ensure your wishes and intent will be observed.
